MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 28.

HIGHWAYMEN. - Saturday night, as the stage from Goshen was passing over Poor House hill, coming to Lexington, three men jumped from the brush which bordered the road and commanded the driver to halt. Mr. Clyce replied that he did not stop after night without knowing the parties, and asked who they were. They commenced cursing, and contiqued their order to stop By this time the stage had reached the top of the hill, and the driver gave whip to his borses and escaped. On arriving at L xington it was found that three of the straps had as the boot containing the baggage were out; a fourth strap prevented the baggage from folling out. There were no passengers aboard. It would be well for the night drivers to carry pistols if highwaymen are in the county - Lexington Gazette.
